

Job title: Internship – Project Europe

Job ID:

Location: Lodz

Department: SE TI CP EN&PRM PRO EU

As an intern within Project Europe function you will be a team member of our global order engineering team for compressors mainly working to develop solution for data management and communication within project. The position will be based in Lodz, Poland, in a global, challenging technical environment.

What are my tasks?

Project Support & Learning

The intern will lead the development of solution for data management and communication within engineering project execution based on Microsoft platforms combined with artificial intelligence (AI).

They will conceptualize, develop and drive the implementation of such solution together with Project Europe AI community.

They will participate in project meetings, support the preparation of reports, and help track project milestones and deliverables.

Collaboration & Communication

Work closely with project managers, engineers, and other team members to ensure smooth implementation of solutions.

Communicate progress, challenges, and suggestions during regular team meetings and provide feedback on assigned tasks.

Professional Development

Participate in career development workshops, events organized by company. Gain exposure to Siemens Energy's business processes, project management standards, and compression technologies.

General Expectations

Maintain confidentiality and adhere to company policies and safety standards. Contribute to a positive team environment and support the achievement of project goals.

What do I have to contribute?

- Knowledge of Mechanical engineering, Turbo Machinery / Rotating equipment's
- Strong interest in programming languages, AI applications and Microsoft office applications
- Analytical, open minded, willingness to learn and develop
- Advanced team and communication skills, Good knowledge of English
- Proactive, ownership culture